Macmillan Cake Morning

Thank you so much to everyone that came to our Macmillan Cake Morning. It was lovely to see so many of you there. The staff commented on how nice the atmosphere was and how happy the children were to share that time in school. A huge thank you to the staff and the children for baking all their delicious bakes.

We have raised £218.00 for the Macmillan Cancer Support Charity.

EXCITING PROJECT WITH THE LOCAL PARK

The play equipment at the village hall park is being removed and Sutton Valence Parish Council have approached the school for some input.

The school council have been speaking to all the classes about it and have asked them to draw their ideas and return them to their school council reps.

This is where we need your help, we do not have many ideas and would love to have more.

Are you able to help your child over the weekend produce amazing ideas for the park? Ideas need to be handed into the class teacher or email ideas to the school office by Monday morning.

Mrs Vieira will be meeting with the school council on Tuesday to view the chosen idea from each class to present these to the Parish Council.

ADHD Day

Sutton Valence are excited to announce that we will be celebrating ADHD day on 6th October.

This special day is dedicated to raising awareness and understanding of ADHD. We believe that by coming together we can foster a supportive environment, for our children and help them to thrive.

Roberta Kane from the Family Hub will be in from 2.30pm -3.00pm to share resources, information and advice on help available to families.

Term 1 Challenge — Art In Nature

Andy Goldsworthy is a British sculptor and photographer known for creating installation and sculptures using existing materials of nature such as rocks, leaves, branches, ice, thorns, and mud among others. He then documents how his artwork changes through photography.

Can you create a piece of art in the style of Andy Goldsworthy using nature?

You could collect items and glue them to paper or make your art outside and photograph it to send in.
